When was the last time your parents/guardians annoyed you about your phone or computer? What exactly did they say?

Most of the time.

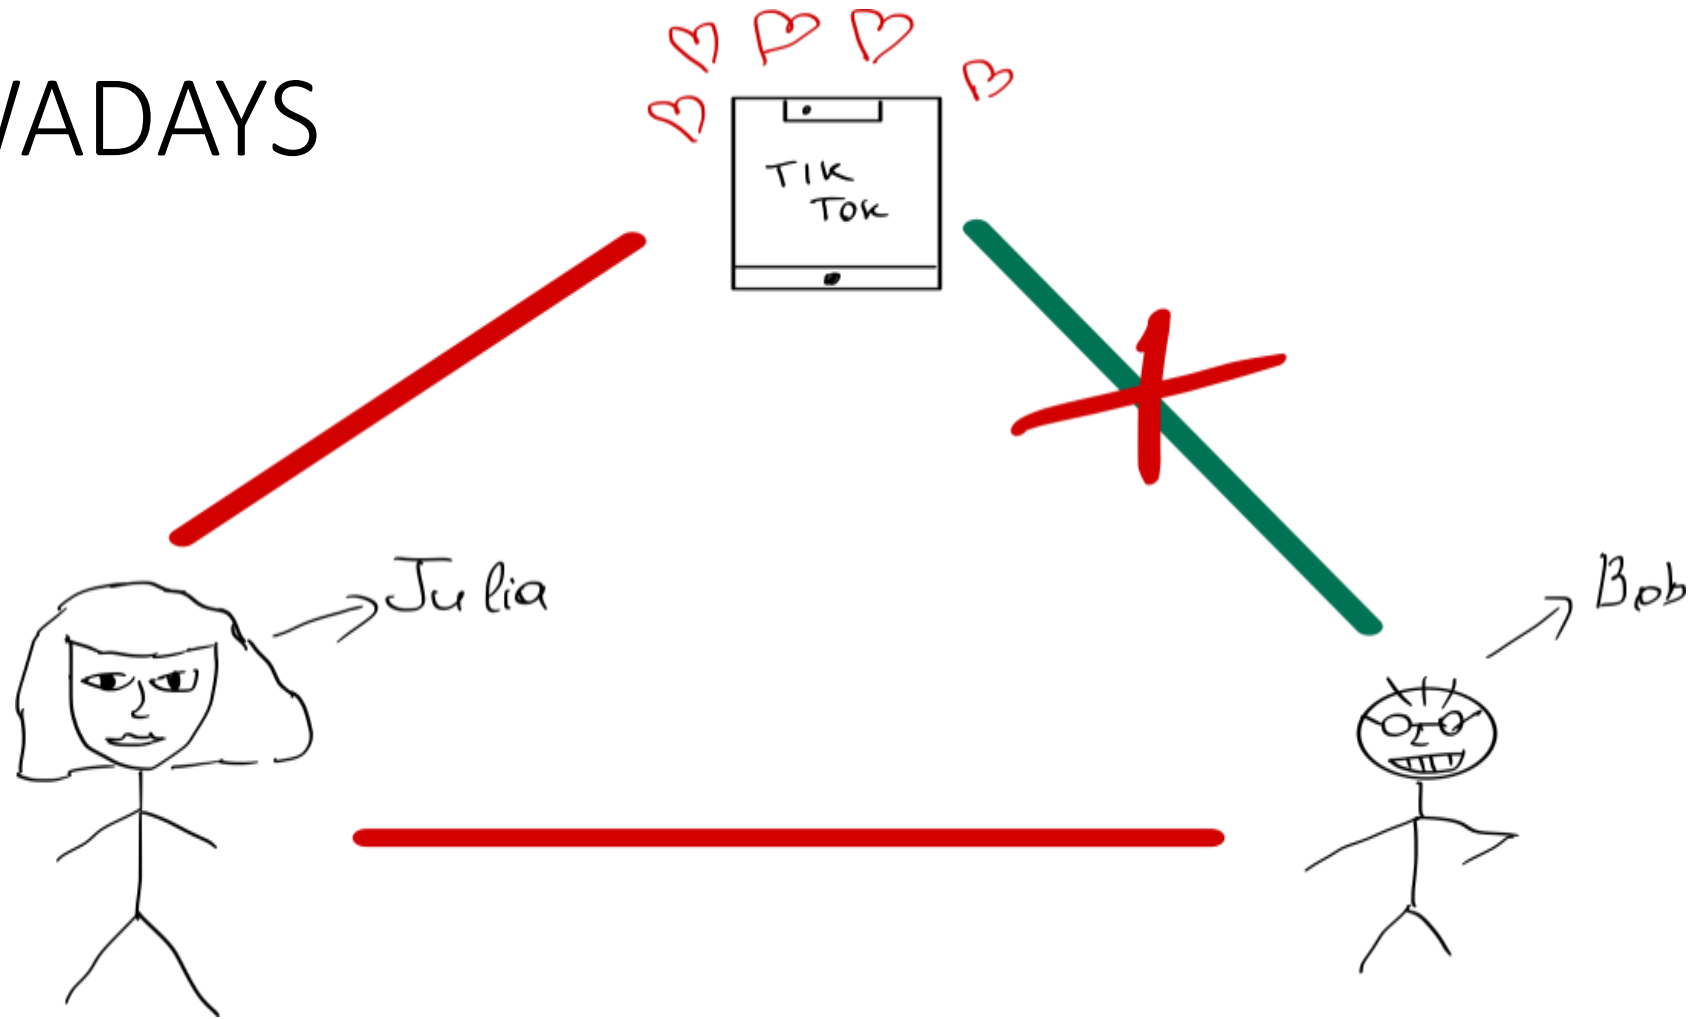

All the time, especially my mom says that she will glue phone to my head because I wake up with my phone and sleep with it

If your phone or the internet died for 48 hours, what's the first thing you'd do to kill time?

I would walk in the parks, hang out with my friends, do some activities with my close friends, and also going to nature/beach is a good idea.

It is hard to think about it, maybe I would play football or start reading books.

Do you ever feel like you're on your phone just because you're bored, rather than because you actually want to be?

Yes, I sometimes use my phone when I am bored.

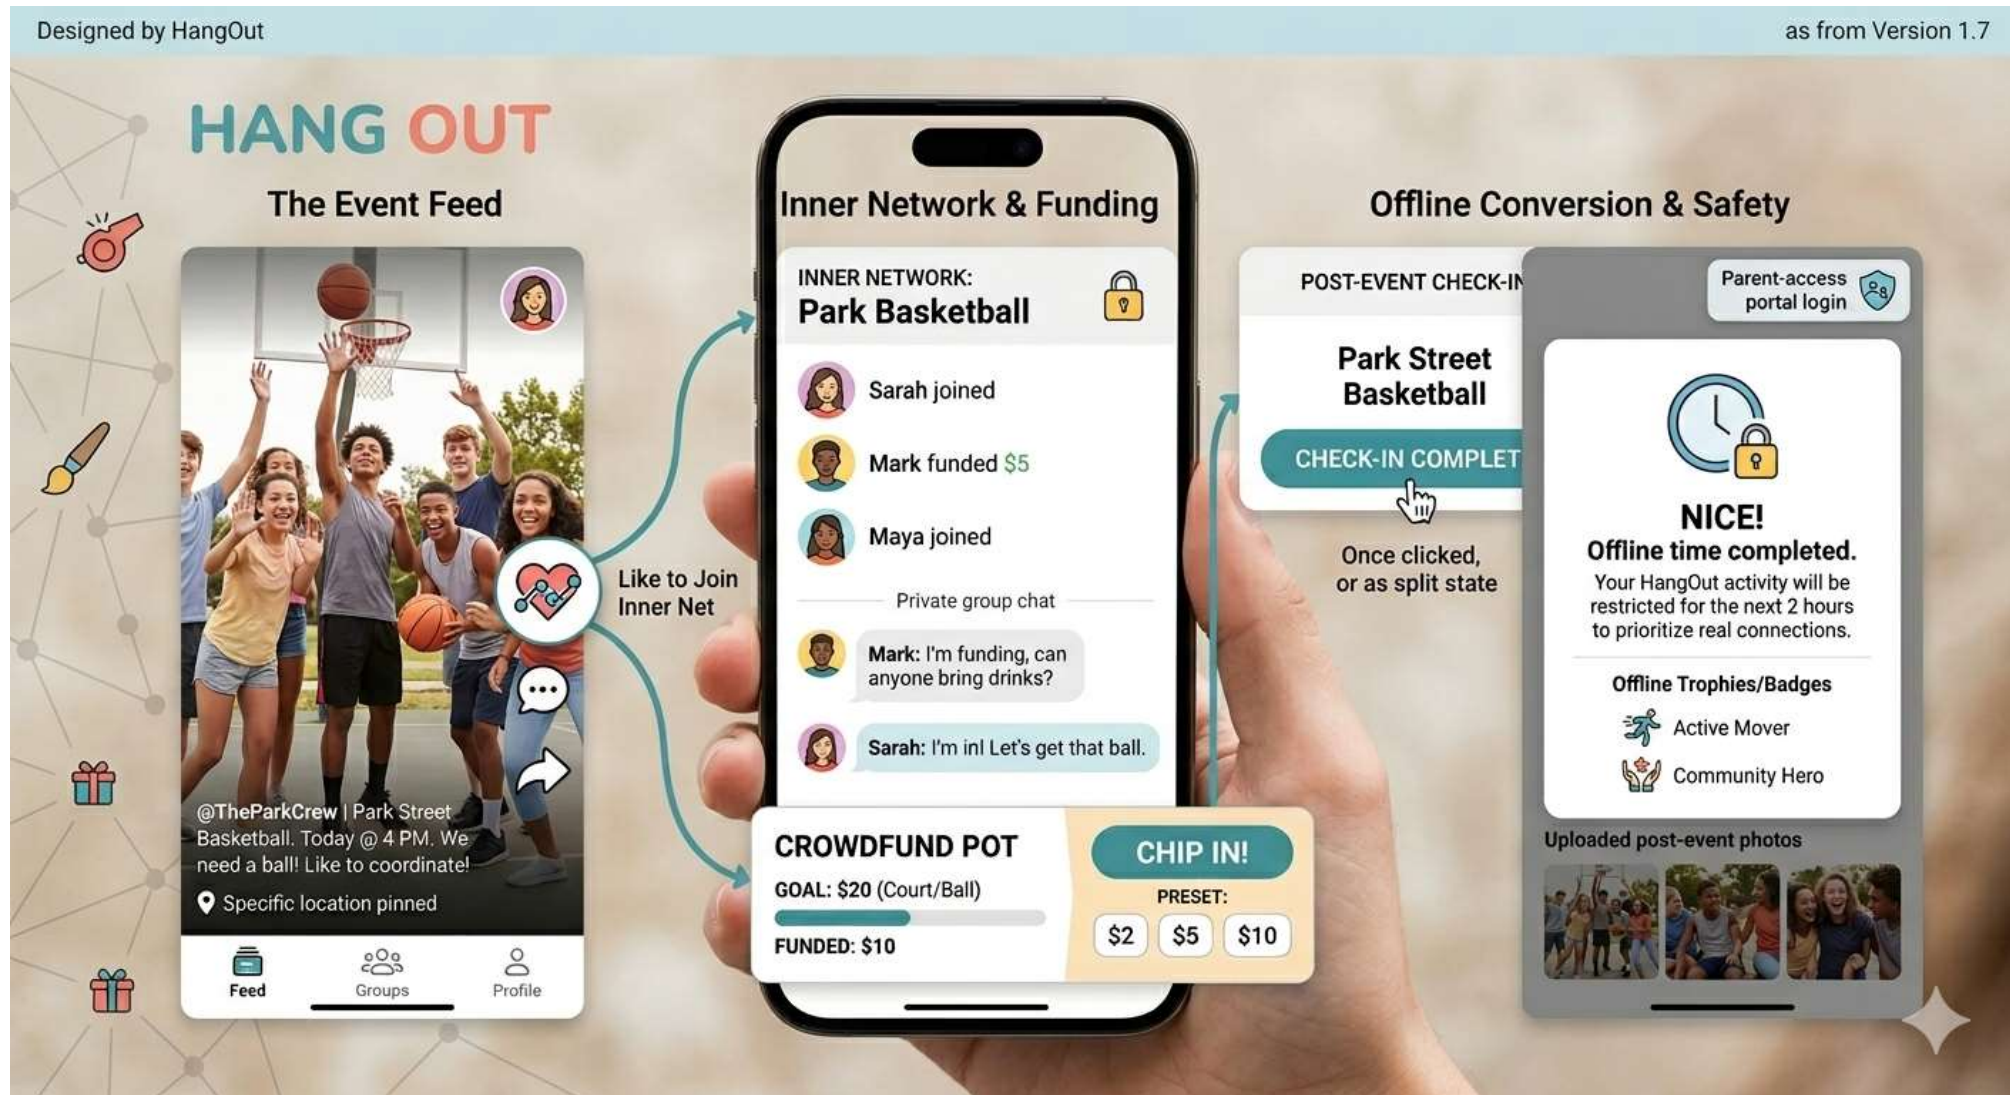

Maybe when I am bored, but I feel like a phone is glued to my hands

Do you feel like you have to stay online to keep up with friends, or would you be okay missing out for a night?

Yes, because all of my friends, and everyone at school uses phones and all the news is there.

Yes, if I want to know all trends, I should have social media and my friends send funny videos there and without social media we have nothing to talk about

Call for action

- Connections with entertainment facilities (bars, game-clubs, concerts)
- Investments – 40K euros (development, office, burocracy, marketing) for 10% of shares

Exit plan:

- Acquisition by a Major Social Media or Tech Firm
- Investor Share Buyback: As the platform scales and achieves its revenue targets from ad companies (3 euros per lead) and partnership companies (10% per purchase), the company could eventually use its profits to buy back the shares discussed with the initial investors.
